These Association of Rhode Island Authors (ARIA) presentations focus on engaging novels for that trip to the beach and a selection of children's stories with craft activities for Saturday afternoon.

Our featured authors for Thursday's Summer Beach Reads showcase are:

Diane Josefowicz leads with L'Air du Temps, about a shooting in a suburban neighborhood that examines the relationships between family, communities and ourselves. Then Sharon Vicente hits us with two psychological thrillers, Love Me and Obey Me, that makes Jaws! sound like a walk in the park. Finally, in Swan Song, Elizabeth Splaine tells the story of Hitler's obsession with a beautiful Jewish opera singer that leads to a gripping, global game of cat-and-mouse.

Saturday afternoon we are offering:

Cindy Elomaa's, Nicky's Very Messy Room, offers a new perspective on an age-old dilemma for us parents. Then Patricia Cousineau will follow with three children's stories. Lastly, Kara Marzaili presents Kara Koala and Her Kaleidoscope of Feelings, a story book with activities and a journal.

There is no entry fee for these events. Borealis offers coffee and tea, soft drinks, food items and alcoholic beverages for purchase. We will be providing audience-style seating for Thursday and a child friendly set up for Saturday. Please join us for these exciting events!
