For Immediate Release – October 9th, 2024

ARIA Presents “Something Spooky This Way Comes: A New Author Showcase and Book Signing Event” on Thursday, October 24th from 7:00 to 9:00 PM hosted by Borealis Coffee Company, 500 Wood Street, Bristol, RI

Grab your broomsticks! Masks and costumes optional but recommended! The Association of Rhode Island Authors is pleased to present our seventh Borealis event featuring works by three spooky authors who will read from their books, with time for Q&A, signings, and book sales.

Our Featured Authors:

Former Motif Magazine editor Mark Binder, a graduate of Trinity Rep Theater Conservatory, will keep you entertained. Between A Dead Politician, An Undead Clam and An Ancient Horror, It Ate My Sister and his Audie Award nominated epic Loki Ragnarok his stories will give you a chill and make you laugh. But don't take our word for it, the Providence Journal said, “Binder is a masterful performer, his voice swooping and diving, his characters coming alive.”

Move over HP Lovecraft! Tiverton resident, Rick Rezendes is the author of seven books, ranging from science fiction horror to hardcore comedy. Amazon gives his first two books, Ground of the Devil (which Rick wrote when he was in his 20s) and The Revelation of Emma Grace five stars.

Finally, we will delve into the world of paranormal romance with JC Brown. If her two books, Asmodeus the Gift of Lust and Beelzebub the Gift of Gluttony might suggest, what if this stuff isn't fiction?

There is no cover charge for this event. Once again, we thank Borealis for being our gracious host. They offer coffee, food items and alcoholic beverages for purchase. We will be providing audience-style seating for 40-50 people; additional seating will also be available. Please join us for this scary evening!

ARIA is a non-profit organization that promotes the work of Rhode Island writers. ARIA members include published, and non-published authors of poetry, fiction and non-fiction.
